

Recall Your Rings

Did you know that you can determine the age of a tree by counting the number of rings in the cross section of a tree? Rings in the tree can also indicate what the weather was like during the life of the tree, the rate of growth and other major events.

In the space below, draw your own tree ring that represents how old you are. Label the year on each ring and include life events of each year.

